ELECTIONS IN K. C. STOLEN, HYDE CHARGES

But in Republican St. Louis, He Says, They Are "Reasonably Clean"—Denounces
the Bosses.

"OUR SCHOOLS A SHAME"
Declares League Would Crucify
Americanism on Altar of Internationalism Because of Article X.

Speaking before a packed audience at the Courthouse last night, Arthur M. Hyde, Republican candidate for Governor, deplored the condition of Missouri's schools and condemned the Kansas City election frauds as "a menace to American freedom."

George E. Hackmann preceded the address with a review of his election promises as State Auditor.

Miss Lucille Montgomery, a member of the Executive Committee of the Student Republican Club introduced Mr. Hyde as "the champion of woman suffrage, the dry amendment and honest elections."

"I would like to see built in this city a University so well equipped and financed that it will be the equal of any other in the land," said Mr. Hyde. "It is a shame that the school system of this state could possibly be rated as it has in the past. In a survey of the schools of the country by the Russell Sage Foundation we were ranked as thirty-fourth, in another survey at the rank of thirty. If elected I will endeavor to see that the boys and girls of Missouri have educational advantages equal to any other state."

"I have advocated woman suffrage because every issue has a moral side. I believe the intuition of women will discern the moral issue. Women should accept the right to vote as a duty. The people who are too good to take part in the elections make for boss rule."

CONDEMNED DISHONEST ELECTIONS

"In 1916 five thousand stolen votes in Kansas City nullified the voice of 380,000 other voters. One vote in Kansas City equalled seventy-six out in the state. The right of the voter is the foundation upon which America is built. If you corrupt the ballot you have assaulted the foundation of liberty. Elections should be square."

"In Kansas City the elections are habitually stolen, one has the nerve to claim that they are honest. An election thief is not a Democrat or a Republican but a straight out thief. In Kansas City a gang of thugs traveled from one precinct to another and repeated their votes from thirty-seven to forty times apiece. I have but one proposition. The election of every precinct in Missouri must be on the square. I call upon Governor Gardner to have a clean election on November 2."

"The Pendegast and Shannon elements rule Kansas City. Without it the last governor could not have been nominated. It is sinister machine which has fastened its grip on this state. Any administration which depends on crooked elections has lost its incentive for public service. In reply to the Governor's question why I do not attack the elections of St. Louis it is because they are reasonably clean. If not why do not the police and election commissioners make it clean. They are appointed by the Governor and why should they allow St. Louis to return a Republican majority?"

"LEAGUE CRUCIFIES AMERICA?"

In his arguments against the League of Nations Mr. Hyde says: "America is the incarnate ideal of the liberty of the world, and the acceptance of the League of Nations is the crucifixion of Americanism upon the altar of Internationalism."

"Article 10," continued Mr. Hyde, "is the fundamental difference between the Republican and Democratic Parties, but the difference entails two widely separated policies. Article 10, of the Covenant, includes the statement, 'We undertake to respect and preserve the territorial integrity of the members of the League, etc.'"

"The Republican Senate does not object to the word 'respect' but it balks at the word 'preserve' unless it is modified by reservations."

"I am heartily in favor of my country's signing a quitclaim deed of all European controversies, but opposed to its signature to a warranty deed to preserve the territorial integrity of any foreign signatory," says Mr. Hyde. "I never have heard an argument for the League which was based upon American advantage and interest."

"The arguments for the League offers the sacrifice of America in order to guarantee the peace of the world. The Monroe Doctrine is purely an American institution, which can only be sustained by America." Under the League of Nations the authority to settle the bounds and rights of the Monroe Doctrine would be for the founder, America, but for judgment at the hands of the greatest enemy of the institution, England. Any attempt to abridge American authority by a foreign power is an encroachment upon the fundamental principles of Americanism," he concluded.

HACKMANN REVIEWS RECORD

Accompanying Mr. Hyde was George E. Hackmann, State Auditor, who is a candidate for re-election for the same office. In a short speech Mr. Hackmann reviewed his past record and assured his audience that a continuation of his present policy will result by his return to office. Mr. Hackmann listed some of his achievements of the past four years, as follows: The abolition of nepotism in the State Legislature, whereby an official may put members of his family on the state payroll; the system of auditing of the state's books and the access of the public thereto; the discontinuance of pleasure trips at the state's expense, and the constitutional apportionment of tax.

Mr. Hackmann explained the five million surplus of the present state administration by showing the increase of county taxes in the past four years, using Boone County as an example, where the increase has been from $26,629.10 in 1918 to $35,392.96 in 1920.

PREBYTERIANS TO HOLD RALLY

Junior, Intermediate and Senior to Compete at Service Tomorrow.

Parents will have no excuse for refusing the little red tickets which the juniors of the Presbyterian Sunday School are trying to force on them to bring them to the rally which will be at the church tomorrow.

The old excuse of "staying home with baby" will be invalid, for even the babies will be cared for during the Sunday School period. Dean Walter Miller, class of University women will conduct a nursery, and all mothers with small children are invited to leave them in their care.

"We are trying to show the parents and the visitors what the Sunday School is really like," Patterson Bain, who is in charge of the rally, said. "After the opening service there will be classes for University women, men and the others."

"Most people think of a rally like children's day," S. R. Braden, pastor, said. "They expect a great program where they will be entertained and they go home with little idea of the practical workings of the Sunday School. There will be a special devotional service, but the rally has been distinctly planned with the view of showing the visitors what the classes and regular work is like. Each church in Columbia has about one-third as many children in its Sunday School as it should have, and we want to arouse the parents to its practical benefits."

Dean E. J. McCausland will be the judge of the contest between the junior, intermediate and senior departments.

An infant baptism will be held at 11:15 o'clock.

After his injuries were dressed, Mr. Hourigan was taken to his home in Rochepot.

LOCAL "GOBS" TO ORGANIZE

Club Will Increase Fraternal and Social Interests Here.

"We ex-gobs have caught the spirit of federation so prevalent in Columbia," said W. Paul Davies, former sailor, who is now a vocational student in the School of Engineering. Twenty-seven former sailors who are now students at the University met in the Knights of Columbus Students' Home at 7 o'clock Friday evening and made plans for an organization which will be announced at the next meeting.

The following officers were elected: Captain, A. Slater; Executive Officer, Leo L. Young; Pay Clerk, B. Bauer; Chief Master-at-Arms, C. Corwin.

A committee of three will draw up a constitution and by-laws to be presented in the next meeting. The object of the club is to increase the fraternal spirit of former sailors in the University and Columbia. Liberty parties are planned as a feature of the club, the word "liberty" corresponding to the soldiers' furlough.

The collision occurred when Edward Hudson driving east on Broadway turned out to pass a buggy and a car which were on the right side of the street. At the same time Wren, who was going west on Broadway, turned to the right but not quick enough to avoid the collision.

The flying glass from the windshields of the two cars struck the occupants in the front seats, causing the injuries. The fenders, headlights and engines of the two cars were damaged.

In a statement concerning the wreck Bryan Hourigan said: "It was impossible for us to pass the buggy and car on the right and not seeing the approaching car we turned to the left of the street, we did not see the headlights on Wren's car."

After his injuries were dressed, Mr. Hourigan was taken to his home in Rochepot.

GIRLS INVITED TO RECEPTION

Invitations Sent by Minister John Discovered Prevents Them Going.

A number of girls received invitations to the faculty reception to the new men students in the Y. M. C. A. Auditorium last night. How those making out the lists could take "Mary," or "Alice," for a boy's name is rather inconceivable, but it was done just the same. Three girls in one boarding house received invitations, one girl receiving two invitations, addressed to Mr. A. A. Blank.

The joke was discovered in time to prevent the girls going to the affair which was for men students.

FIELDING A FEATURE

Rube Marquard Not In Game —Players Scoff at the Big Pitcher's Arrest for Scalping.

By United Press.

CLEVELAND, Oct. 9.—The Indians put joy into the hearts of 20,000 raving Ohio fans by defeating the Brooklyn National 5 to 1 in the fourth game of the World Series. This evened the count for the world's title, each team having won two games.

Stanley Coveleskie, the big Polish spitballer, effected a well-earned win over the Robbins, holding them to five hits. Coveleskie has won both of Cleveland's victories and his work today was every bit as effective as on the first appearance.

The batting eyes of the Indians returned to them when they cut loose on the home field. Knocking about a quarter-fighting band from start to finish, a total of 12 hits. The Indians were 5 to 1.

The attack on Leon Cadore in the opening round started the ball rolling and before they lost their initial emphasis two runs were across the plate. With Coveleskie pitching unbeatnball, the two tallies were sufficient and the game was virtually won.

The wonderful fielding which has marked the series from the start was maintained today. Myers, the Robbin center fielder, probably carried away the highest fielding honors by making two great catches. Running at top speed to make one of the catches, he picked the ball off his shoe tops and rolled over and over holding up the ball.

Score by innings:

Brooklyn 0 0 0 1 0 0 0 0 1 5 1
Cleveland 2 0 2 0 1 0 0 0 5 1 2 2
Batteries: Brooklyn—Cadore and Miller; Cleveland—Coveleskie and O'Neill.
